Dear Parents/Carers,

As Chair of Governors to the newly federated Learning Quarter Partnership (LQP), I am pleased to announce we have officially established the senior leadership team by formally appointing a Head Teacher to each school in the partnership and an Associate Head Teacher to work strategically across the LQP.

With effect from the start of this term, Ms Claire Brown is the Head Teacher of Winton Primary School; Ms Sarah Gill is the Head Teacher of Hugh Myddelton Primary School and Mr Tim Barber is the Associate Head Teacher of the LQP. Ms Nathalie Parker will remain the Executive Head Teacher of both schools and the LQP.

The governing body is extremely proud of what both schools have achieved together. In the last year alone both schools have gained the World Class Schools Quality Mark, been named in The Sunday Times list of the Top 100 Primary Schools in England and maintained or improved further their outstanding record of attainment in the Year 6 SATs. We wish to consolidate this work and aspire to ever better by creating a structure that consistently ensures only the highest of standards and at the same time is capable of building the best possible futures for all our pupils.

I would like to congratulate and thank Ms Brown, Ms Gill and Mr Barber for all their hard work and belatedly wish everyone a prosperous New Year.
